DISCUSSION EXAMINATION 2C

The Creed—The Third Article

Directions to Sponsors or Parents: Discuss each question with your catechumen. When you are satisfied that you and your catechumen understand what a particular question is asking, you or he may write down what he has said in response to the question. The language of the catechism and class discussions will help you and your catechumen form the answers to these questions. Let your catechumen "practice" with you in his own words what he might say in answer to these questions. Feel free to discuss these questions with your catechumen and others in your family before writing anything down. By discussing these questions together and speaking the answers to you, your catechumen will begin to learn how to confess the faith with his mouth.
